

HARDING FAILS TO MEET WILSON IN WASHINGTON

Wilson's Refusal to Send Direct Invitation Blocks
Conference.

LEADERS ARE FAR APART

Harding Mystified at President's Failure to Send Congratulations.

By David Lawrence
Washington.—Warren Harding has come and gone and the expected conference between Woodrow Wilson and the President-elect failed to materialize. People may justly ask why. The truth of the matter may reveal an unfortunate hesitancy on the part of both of the gentlemen concerned to take the initiative and a disposition on the part of each to stick to his own conception of the proprieties but the facts are as follows:

White House officials let it be known to newspapermen several days ago that the president would "be glad to see Senator Harding." The hint was promptly taken and published broadcast. It reached the ears of the president-elect.

Senator Harding considered whether he ought to accept or ignore the informal roundabout sort of an invitation. He finally told friends he would merely leave his cards and pay his respects unless he received a formal invitation or direct request to come to the executive mansion for a conference.

Wilson Was Silent
The president-elect would have gladly accepted an invitation if he had been given one. He hesitated for this reason: He really did not know whether the president wanted to see him. He remembered incidentally that of all the messages of congratulation received after the election returns came in, including a message from Gov. Cox himself, not a word came from the White House. Senator Harding has told friends he is at a loss to understand it.

Indeed, it may be said that back of Mr. Harding's declaration of the battleship tendered him by the president for the cruise to Persia was a trace of concern over the failure of Mr. Wilson to send any congratulatory message. Of course, when the "Mayflower" was offered for the trip to Washington from Hampton Roads, the stop at Bedford, Va., made a rail journey unavoidable and the "Mayflower" simply couldn't have been as convenient. The battleship might have ever have been accepted but for the wonder in the mind of Mr. Harding as to the absence of any congratulatory message from President Wilson. The public may have lost sight of the fact but Senator Harding didn't.

It will be recalled that Charles Evans Hughes didn't send a congratulatory message to Mr. Wilson after election day in 1916 but that was because there was some doubt about the result, and finally Mr. Hughes did send a telegram. However this time there was no doubt about the returns.

Avoided Hypocrisy
In defense of President Wilson's attitude in the matter, some of his friends venture the suggestion that he did not feel that he could extend congratulations with any degree of sincerity and that he didn't want to seem hypocritical about it. "To say 'congratulations' from your victor or us" would have been inconsistent with an honest mind, it is asserted, but then other friends wonder why the president didn't simply confine his message to the expression of hope that America would profit by the Harding administration and that Mr. Harding would be successful.

The incident is important in that it prevented a frank and full discussion by the outgoing president and the incoming president of some of the most perplexing problems in the nation's history. It is true that President-elect did not always confer with the man who is still in the White House after election day but precedents have been broken in recent years because of the extraordinary character of the problems before the government. Indeed, there will have to be many a conference between department heads of the incoming and outgoing administration in the interest of good government and the hope was that the two chiefs would set an example for their associates. It may yet come to pass but this much is true—Senator Harding will not seek a conference with President Wilson but will attend one if he is personally invited.

KAHN PLACES AGITATORS
FOR TROUBLE WITH JAPS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Relations between the United States and Japan are kept unsettled by Japanese agitators and demagogues seeking to stir up hatred against this country. Representative Julius Kahn, California, claimed in a speech to the house today. He warned that continued activity on the part of Japanese agitators might lead to war between the two countries.

The people of the Pacific coast object only to large numbers of Japanese laborers coming into their states, but have no objection to the immigration of Nipponese professional men, financiers or students, Kahn said, declaring that the question was not one of racial prejudice.

SENATE REBELS
WANT CHANCE TO VOTE FOR PEACE

Insurgent Movement Starts
When Lodge Blocks Knox
Resolution.

By L. C. Martin
Washington.—Refusal of Senator Lodge, republican leader of the senate, to sanction introduction and passage of the Knox peace resolution at this session of congress has started an insurgent movement which may result in presentation of the measure in spite of Lodge's disapproval.

Senators who deem immediate return to a peace status imperative, are exerting pressure on Senator Knox to permit one of them to introduce his resolution, which declares the state of war between the United States and Germany at an end.

Knox has thus far declined because he does not wish to run counter to his floor leader's wishes. He is strongly in favor of immediate adoption of the resolution, however.

Lodge informed the insurgents that he does not intend to have anything done with the measure this session. They told him there are enough democratic votes available to pass the resolution over President Wilson's veto.

But Lodge said his plan was to let the whole thing go over until the special session after Harding's inauguration.

The insistence of insurgents is based on a desire to get war laws repealed. They want to get rid of the espionage act particularly and they want the return of conditions that would allow American businessmen to trade unhindered anywhere they can find customers with money to pay for goods.

Lodge was much interested today in reports that President Wilson might re-submit the Versailles treaty. Nothing will be done with it, Lodge made it clear. If resubmitted it will be referred to the foreign relations committee and left there, Lodge indicated.

DEMOCRATS AND WOMEN INVITED

Harding Will Seek Advice From All Shades of Opinion on League.

By Raymond Clapper
Marion, Ohio.—Making good on his campaign promises, President-elect Warren G. Harding is today working on a list of representative women and prominent democrats he intends to call to Marion to advise him on the league of nations question.

Among democrats, it is certain that Senator Gilbert Hitchcock, of Nebraska, who was President Wilson's spokesman in the senate throughout the treaty fight, will be summoned.

Among others will be Senator Shields, Tennessee, who, although a democrat, was among the reconciling treaty opponents. Senator Harding has not divulged the names of any woman he intends to call, but it is likely that Mrs. Raymond Robins, Chicago, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Ohio, will be on the list.

The immediate circle around Harding headquarters is buzzing with gossip as to the next cabinet. Senator Harding, however, is keeping his own counsel for the present and reiterated today that he would select his own cabinet.

It is probable that the most important places will have been filled early in January in order to give the appointees who face difficult problems time to familiarize themselves with conditions before they take office.

Passaic, N. J., Gossips Renew Talk as Mystery Is Nearer Solution.

By United Press Leased Wire
Passaic, N. J.—Missing since November 11, the Rev. Cornelius Densel of the Netherlands Reformed church, has returned to Passaic, it was learned today.

The reiterated prediction of Mrs. Densel that "he will come back," was verified last night when the missing pastor walked into a meeting of the church consistory, which was just about to decide on a minister to replace him.

It was reported that Miss Trina Hannenberg, 26, who disappeared almost at the same time as the pastor, is also back in Passaic.

"I have made a mistake, a terrible mistake," Densel was quoted as saying, by Henry Dross, secretary of the consistory.

He handed in his resignation as pastor of the church.

Members of the congregation were anxious to learn whether Mrs. Densel would take back her husband. For days following his disappearance, she refused to believe rumors that he had gone away with Miss Hannenberg and consistently asserted her firm belief that he would return. Today when she learned that her missing husband had returned to the city, Mrs. Densel shut herself up in her room and refused to unlock the door to anybody.

"Father is home again and everything is all right," one of Densel's daughters said.

"Mother is sick. He is in the house."

"God brought my father home," Benjamin Densel, one of the preacher's eight children, said.

"Mother is very happy and she has forgiven father," he added.

It was reported, however, that Densel and his wife had locked themselves up in separate rooms.

When Densel appeared at the church last night one of the members slammed the door in his face. Later he was admitted. He made a statement during which he went and told such a pathetic story that several other men in the room burst into tears.

There was no decision last night on Densel's resignation.

Lucerne.—A simple statement of election results, not an invitation to return to Greece, was received today by King Constantine.

The message, from Premier George Rallis, read:

"The result of the plebiscite is proof of the attachment of the Greeks for your majesty whom they regard as an emblem of national unity."

Constantine, who has been impatient for an invitation to assume the crown, may accept the message as such. It was believed, however, that he has been requested to delay his trip until the government has had further word from the allies.

Washington.—Farmers now demanding emergency legislation as protection against falling prices, raised crops during the last two years which brought more than $7,000,000,000 when sold for export, according to an analysis of foreign trade by Secretary of the Treasury Houston.

Farmers are bringing pressure to bear on congress to revive the war finance corporation to loan them money to export wheat, grain, cotton, meat and dairy products. Another group wants a high tariff on wool.

Houston has opposed the demands and some government officials say that to grant them would increase food and clothing prices.

According to Houston, more than 50 per cent of the United States' foreign commerce now consists of agricultural products. During 1918 and 1919 this commerce piled up a trade balance in favor of the United States of nearly $9,000,000,000.

Foreign nations now owe the businessmen of the United States more than $3,500,000,000, according to Houston. In addition to nearly $10,000,000,000 which their governments owe the government of the United States.

Houston's indicated conclusion therefore is that farmers are now sharing, to a greater extent than any other class of businessmen in United States history.

Southern farmers, insistent on urging government assistance to protect them from selling cotton at twenty cents per pound instead of 40 cents a few months ago, were particularly noted by Houston. The value of manufactured cotton exports from the United States was $1,100,000,000 during 1919, he pointed out. During the same period, exports of bread stuffs were valued at $1,000,000,000 and meat and dairy products $1,600,000,000, and tobacco $260,000,000.

Colonel Archer-Shee who moved the debate on bringing the publishers before the house, charged the campaign was a gross breach of privilege.

A technicality in rules caused a postponement of the debate with a chance that the advantage of the offensive might be taken from the government.

NO CHANGES IN TAX AND TARIFF LAWS FOR YEAR

Republicans Believe Nine Months Will Be Required to Revise Tariff.

OPPOSE HIGHER TAX RATE

Normal Tax Should Be Reduced, Not Increased,
Fordney Declares.

By Herbert W. Walker
Washington.—Present revenue and tariff laws must continue for a year, republicans believe, if the house agreed today after completing preliminary plans for revision of these two measures.

Representative Fordney, chairman of the ways and means committee, today said congress would be showing good speed if a republican revenue and tariff law were on the statute books by the end of 1921. He believes that at least nine months will be required for the revision of the tariff.

Because of the long time required for the tariff measure and the necessity of modifying tax laws, strong opposition has developed to Fordney's plan for devoting virtually all of the time of his committee to the tariff for the first nine months of 1921. The opposition led by Representative Longworth, of Ohio, believes changes in taxes more important than tariff changes.

Hearings on revenue revision under present plans will start next Monday. The recommendations for increased taxes in the annual report of Secretary of the Treasury Houston will come up first.

Hearings on revenue revision under present plans will start next Monday. The recommendations for increased taxes in the annual report of Secretary of the Treasury Houston will come up first.

Apparently Houston's suggestion for repeal of the excess profits tax is the only one upon which committee members agree.

Fordney claims there is strong opposition to Houston's proposal to increase the normal income tax rates from four to six per cent and from 3 to 12 per cent.

"The present income taxes are too high and ought to be reduced, not increased, as soon as possible," he said. Houston's proposal for a twenty percent tax on the undistributed profits of corporation met with favor. It is believed this would increase the return of the income taxes by forcing distribution of the profits to stockholders.

Considerable opposition was expressed to the proposal for a federal license tax on automobiles and a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline.

Likewise, there is objection to increasing the number and percentage of petty taxes, such as theatre admission, jewelry, chewing gum, candy and the like.

Judge Murlin, Newberry's counsel, opposed this on the ground that a review of this case is now before the supreme court, where it will be argued January 3.

TEARS OF JOY FOR THOSE WHO DIE FOR ERIN, MRS. MAC SWINEY SAYS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The story of Terence MacSwiney and his final hunger strike was told today by the widow of the late lord mayor of Cork who appeared before the Nation's unofficial commission on conditions in Ireland.

So fierce was MacSwiney's love for Ireland and the Irish language, she said, that even his baby daughter, Maura, could not speak any but the Irish language.

"He has never heard his father or mother use a word of English," Mrs. MacSwiney said.

The widow appeared a small, fragile woman, dressed in black, speaking with a bit of brogue.

Mrs. MacSwiney said she first met her husband in 1915 and later again at Christmas, 1916, when he was an officer in the Irish republican army.

"He was arrested and put in jail about that time for making a speech and I used to go to the jail to see him," she said.

"We were married in June, 1917," she said. MacSwiney had been arrested and deported to England.

"We were not engaged, but I think I knew how things were," she said. "I asked soldiers and police about him, but they said no one would ever know where he was," she continued.

"But that night I got a letter from him saying where he was. I went to jail to see him that night, and there we became engaged. About a fortnight later we were married. We were married in England by an Irish priest in our own language."

While MacSwiney was in prison, his baby was born.

"I felt in August, 1920, just after my husband's last arrest, he would die," she said.

"So the shock for me was at first, not later."

There was a faint break in her voice here.

"But there should be tears of joy, not grief, for those who die for Ireland," she continued.

"When I next saw him, he was in Brixton jail very pale and haggard," Mrs. MacSwiney denied that any of MacSwiney's relatives ever had fed him, but said prison officials had done so after he became unconscious.

Mrs. MacSwiney charged the English were pursuing a "policy of starvation" in Ireland.

Washington.—Congress will be asked to appropriate $1,000,000,000 for the next decennial period to improve the national rivers and harbors. It was decided today by the national rivers and harbors congress.

The action followed enthusiastic reception of the speech of James E. Smith, of St. Louis vice-president of the Mississippi Valley association in which the speaker denounced the rivers and harbors bill of the last congress as a "picaresque, penny-wise pound-foolish bit of economy."

He contrasted the billions of taxes levied in the Beckham bill with the "paltry $12,000,000" for Atlantic coast, gulf and Pacific coast as well as inland waterways improvements.

Smith recommended that:

1.—A definite and comprehensive plan for permanent waterways improvement.

2.—That projects be undertaken in order of importance.

3.—That as soon as so-called trunk lines are improved, branches be developed.

4.—That the entire plan be fulfilled in ten years.

5.—Creation of a special waterways commission ranking with other government departments to have complete charge of waterways.

Canned Goods Prices Are Slightly Lower

Dealers Believe Prices of Food in Cans Have Reached the Bottom.

Due to the flooding of the market with cheap canned goods which is caused chiefly because of the large crop, the price of many canned articles has decreased considerably. Other articles, however, due to a poor crop and high cost of production, have advanced slightly.

"The cheap canned goods, common so-called 'standard goods' are flooding the market," said S. Schaefer, of the Schaefer Brothers grocery. "Corn and peas that have not been assorted are cheap enough. On the other hand, fancy goods are hard to get. There was not a large crop in the first place, and what there was, sold at a premium."

"Pineapple and blueberries, for instance are very hard to get. The high grade goods can hardly be bought at any price."

"It would be hard to say just what is cheap and what is not, grocers say. Goods like baked beans, tomatoes, peas and corn are staple articles, and are sold at different prices, according to their grade and to the demand for them."

"Canned goods, as a whole have not

SEEK HELP IN SEARCH FOR MISSING CANADIAN

Major J. A. Hawes has received a communication from Mrs. Oliver L. Passebois, Montreal, Can., asking aid in the search of her husband who disappeared October 15. According to the communication, the man left his home in Takoma Park, B. C., without leaving word as to his destination. His wife is with his parents in Montreal.

Passebois is 31 years old, five feet four inches in height, weighs 110 pounds, and has a large burn scar from the wrist of his right arm to the elbow. The man is a linotype operator by profession.

changed much either way," said William Uckerman. "Lobsters, shrimp, sardines, and jams and preserves that are imported are still high. Then there is canned plum pudding, mushrooms and salmon. Canned tuna fish are very scarce and are higher than before."

Pineapple has dropped about 10 cents on a can. Asparagus is also lower. All canned fruit and vegetables in general are lower.

"Imported goods is beginning to come in more freely," said G. E. Wichman, of the Wichman Brothers grocery.

"During the war, it was impossible to get anything in the line of imported canned goods. This year's crop is already being used for canning, and the price has dropped accordingly. Fancy goods, however, are just as they have been."

The immense cabbage crop this year has put canned sauerkraut on the toboggan. Mr. Wichman said that it is very cheap now. Canned pickles, however, are out of sight. There was only about a 25 per cent crop this year, Mr. Wichman said. There is only one crop of pickles a year and Mr. Wichman believes that the price will not come down until the next crop comes out.

"We have no trouble in getting any kind of canned goods," said H. J. Ingold, of the S. C. Shannon company. "But of course, we have to pay a good price for some of it. Imported goods are coming back, but is very high. Not as high as during the war, but almost too high for the average person to use. Fruit cannot be lower for a time. It was all put up when sugar was 28 and 30 cents. The money was put into it, now it has to be gotten out again."

"We don't handle much meat, but that of course, is cheaper than most canned goods. Not much is required to preserve it."

"As far as the cans are concerned, no difficulty is apparent. It is easy enough to make them and there is enough material, but labor is still high."

These quotations from dealers seem to indicate that the tendency of canned goods is to drop along with everything else on the food market. They all say, however, that a further decrease in price is hardly probable for some time.

SPLENDID PROGRAM IS PRESENTED HERE

Prokofieff and Mrs. Emma Patten-Hoyt Delight Audience at Chapel.

It was Appleton's privilege to hear music of the masters played by a master musician Wednesday evening, with the appearance of Serge Prokofieff, Russian pianist-composer, at Lawrence Memorial chapel to fulfill the third number of the Appleton Community Lecture and Artist Series. It was also the delight of the audience to enjoy a recital by Emma Patten-Hoyt, Chicago soprano soloist.

Prokofieff's skill was marvelously demonstrated in his work at the piano. He gave an interpretation of famous compositions such as is seldom heard except in the world's greatest music halls. His technique was exact and he gave his hearers a varied program ranging from the light fantastic music of the dance to the sterner renditions from renowned operas.

Mrs. Hoyt was enthusiastically greeted at every appearance, presenting her program with the same skill of voice that has endeared her to her home people. She used a wealth of expression in her numbers and showed a remarkable vocal control. She was accompanied by Clarence Shepard, Oshkosh.

Three compositions out of the many composed by Prokofieff himself proved the most pleasing part of the pianist-composer's program. They were Op. 15 "Prelude," Gavotte, and "Scherzo." His opening selection was Beethoven's Sonata A major, Op. 101, including "Allegretto," Ma Non Troppo," "Vivace, Alla Marcia," "Adagio," "Con Affetto," and "Allegro."

His other numbers were "Waltzes" by Schubert, "Two Studies," by Chopin, "Gavotte," Rimsky-Korsakoff, and "Prelude, B. Minor," by Liszt.

He responded with one encore. Mrs. Patten opened her concert with Haydn-Viardo's "Canzonetta." The numbers that drew the greatest appreciation were "Herdman's Song," (Old Norwegian) and "All in a Garden Green," (Old English). Her other selections included "Separazione," by Sambiati, "Maiden's Wish" and "Lithuanian Song," by Chopin; "Air de Pamina—Magic Flute," by Mozart; "Morning Dew," and "The Ways of the World," by Grieg, and "To a Young Gentleman," by Carpenter. One encore was sung after the last selection.

"Y" HELPS RAISE FUNDS FOR EUROPEAN KIDDIES

The Appleton Y. M. C. A. will co-operate with the European Relief Council in the collection of funds for child relief in Europe. It was stated by one of the officers of the local association.

A national campaign is being conducted and every effort is being put into the work by organizations such as the Red Cross, Society of Friends, the Jewish Joint Distribution Board, the Knights of Columbus and others.

E. M. Robinson, general secretary of the international boys' work committee, who is now in Europe, writes that in one place he saw boys from 12 to 14 years old sleeping sixteen in a room of 12 by 15 feet. They had nothing but a bag of straw to rest upon, their clothes were not changed from one day to another. There is not enough coal to keep the patients in the hospitals warm. Diseases of every description are multiplying.

No definite quota has been set. It is expected that money will come from all the people so that the conditions in Europe will be somewhat relieved.

C. S. Wibley, of Green Lake, was here on business Wednesday.

STRIKE FOLLOWS BIG CUT IN PAY

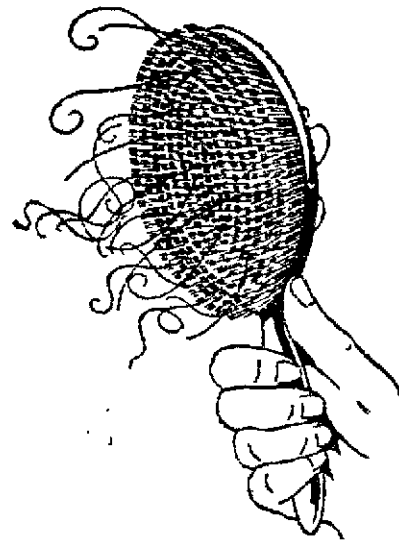

Very Little Timber Will Be Cut This Fall, Lumberman Believes.

A reduction in wages from $30 per month, at which they had contracted for the winter, to $40 per month caused all the men in the lumber camp in which Roland Schulze, Loran street, was employed, to strike and return to their homes.

Mr. Schulze left for the northern part of the state early in the fall and was employed continuously until this week. None of the men made any effort to secure work at other camps.

CHICAGO MAN TO SPEAK AT C. OF C. MEETING

Earl C. Bracken, Chicago, is to be the speaker at the next forum meeting of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce at Appleton Hotel December 15. Mr. Bracken will present the subject of income taxation, touching on the problems that confront the average person in properly filling out returns.

Mr. Bracken is a member of the firm of Archibald Harris and company of Chicago, tax experts, and speaks from a wide experience in the taxation field.

on account of the general reduction in wages that is being made.

The conditions in the woods are such at present that it is doubtful if the usual amount of logs will be cut this winter. Henry Schulze, who has operated lumber camps for the last twenty years, returned from Litchfield, Wis., a few days ago and says the yards of saw mills in that part of the state are piled up with lumber as never before.

CONSIDER PLANS FOR WIDENING ISLAND ST.

Preliminary steps are being taken by the city for the widening of South Island street from Lake street to Vulcan street. The street department has already removed several hydrants and trees and the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company has removed its poles. The street runs between the plant of the Valley Iron Works and the office and the widening will necessitate setting the office building back several feet which the company is contemplating to do later in the winter. A conference between the board of public works and representatives of Kumbier-Clark company and Fox River Paper company was held at the city hall a few days ago concerning the ownership of the bridge near Teulah mill which needs replacing and which is no longer used for heavy traffic.

Miss Pauline Hoffman has returned from Polcan Lake.

EIGHT DELEGATES TO STATE MEETING

Outagamie County Well Represented at Conservation Convention.

Outagamie Fish and Game Protective association will be represented by eight delegates at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Fish and Game Protective association in Madison next week. When the membership roll of the local organization was checked over last week it was found that 339 members were enrolled, entitling association to seven delegates, and it was immediately decided to enroll 12 more members in order to make it possible for another delegate to attend.

Seven of the eight delegates are P. M. Conkey, S. A. Whedon, J. L. Wolf, Grant Phillips, Charles Herrmann, Max Schwab and Walter Plaman. Mark S. Cathin also a member of the organization, is president of the state association.

Mr. Cathin said that the 1920 convention will be attended by more prominent men as delegates than any previous state meeting. Dozens of lawyers, a half dozen mayors, three or four judges, a good sprinkling of legislators and numerous wealthy businessmen have been selected to discuss the state's fish and game future. It is believed that the coming convention will result in suggestions for such legislation which will protect fish and game resources for coming generations and at the same time insure plenty of excitement for present day sportsmen.

"HITCHY KOO" DRIVES BUSINESS CARES AWAY

The tired business man and his wife who were seeking light entertainment got all they were looking for when they saw Raymond Hitchcock's "Hitchy Koo" at Appleton theatre Wednesday evening. "Hitchy Koo" was as devoid of plot as an egg is of hair but just as many seats were filled at the end as when the first curtain went up. Theatre goers who were expecting a musical show with a story were disappointed but that disappointment was allayed at the start when the master of ceremonies announced that one couldn't find the plot with the aid of a microscope.

The girls weren't half bad looking but they were better looking than they were singers. The music of "Hitchy Koo" is nothing to rave about but the costumes were excellent. About all there is to "Hitchy Koo" is sixteen numbers of good vaudeville with a lot of us to be "sweet sixteens" for scenery.

all kinds of excitement in the camp of the New London Edisons by his charge that the Edisons developed a case of cold feet and backed out of a scheduled game with his squad. Mr. Hertz saw to it that his charge received due prominence on the sporting pages of many Wisconsin papers, much to the distress of the Edisons who have hastened to set the basketball world right.

Manager L. E. Shalberg of the Edisons, has written to sporting editors declared that the Badgers had scheduled a game with the Edisons on a "second team" from the Edison plant but the game was not played because of a misunderstanding. It appears that Hertz had arranged with a member of the team instead of with the manager for the contest and as a result the Edisons did not get together. Mr. Shalberg fears that the story has given the basketball fans

DELEGATES HEAR OF MAGNITUDE OF NEAR EAST RELIEF

Outagamie County Represented by Two Delegates at State Meeting.

Mrs. James Wood and Mrs. S. C. Rosebush have returned from Milwaukee where they represented Outagamie county at the state convention of the Near East Relief. According to Alonzo Miller, director of the Near East Relief, with headquarters at New York, it was the largest of any of the state conferences, every county being represented by two or three delegates.

Miss Elizabeth B. Kelly, formerly of the executive bureau at the University of Wisconsin, and for two years with the Near East Relief in Armenia, was one of the principal speakers. Miss Kelly has recently returned from the stricken districts and will go back to Armenia to pledge her life to the relief of the suffering people. Lieutenant Francis Connes, official interpreter for the supreme court of New York, a former member of the Russian and Roumanian Commission of the Red Cross, spoke of the conditions of the people.

Alonzo Wilson, national director of the Near East Relief, with headquarters in New York, gave plans for the coming year. He said that the Near East Relief is spending the sum of $500,000 a week in the work.

A luncheon was served in the room of Hotel Pfister to the delegates, at which John M. Callahan of Milwaukee was the hostmaster.

Dr. Frank Gunsulius, president of Armour Institute at Chicago, addressed the convention on "What Russia Means to America from the Industrial Standpoint." Dr. Gunsulius made the statement that Ar-

Pedestrian Injured
Ruben Schultz, 553 North street, was injured about the face Wednesday when he accidentally ran into August Brandt company's truck, driven by Ervin Rohloff, 927 State street. The truck was proceeding east on North street and it is said that Schultz was looking in another direction when he ran against the side of the moving automobile. One eye was injured and there were other minor bruises on his face.

Home-made Remedy

Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the eyes and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soothes your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Rev. Dr. Isaac Yonan, former moderator Presbytery of Uralia, Armenia, food administrator with headquarters in Persia, lectured on the "Tragedy of a Martyred Race." Dr. Yonan, who is called the Armenian Hoover, is a Persian by birth who has always lived in Armenia. He, Miss Kelly and Lieut. Connes are touring Wisconsin giving lectures for the Near East Relief.

Mrs. Florence Spencer Durvee, national director of woman's organizations with headquarters in New York, spoke in the afternoon, and James W. Thompson, state director of the Near East Relief, with headquarters at Milwaukee, talked on the work of the organization in the past and the plans for the future.

Short talks were given by the state presidents of different organizations, Masons, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Knights of Columbus, American Legion, Order of the Eastern Star, Sunday School association and Federation of Woman's Clubs, who pledged themselves to help in the work of the Near East Relief.

The Art Institute at Milwaukee was thrown open to the convention in the afternoon and evening.

The people who have banded together in this work are the Greek and Roman Catholic, Jews and all Protestant churches.

The Near East Relief is buying quantities of supplies in America and shipping them over. Twenty thousand barrels of flour and 200,000 pounds of rice have recently been shipped. An order for 190 tons of laundry soap is awaiting a firm who will undertake the contract.

The plot revolves around the efforts of Maggie to get Jiggs to the seashore. After much effort she accomplishes the difficult task. How he eludes her best intentions despite her efforts to make him view the situation through the same rose tinted glasses, gives ample scope for numerous funny situations.

WHAT ARTICLE 10 REALLY MEANS

All through the period when attacks were being made on the League of Nations and in the presidential campaign, the charge was constantly made that article 10 of the covenant guaranteed the territorial integrity of the signatories. It was asserted that if the United States ratified the covenant it would be bound to go to the assistance of any nation to hold its territory. It was even charged that article 10 definitely committed the world to the boundaries and sovereignties set up by the treaty of Versailles. It is true that Mr. Taft and other great leaders of the opposition did not so construe the covenant, but for the purposes of political assault upon the treaty a great deal was made of this contention.

Because the attitude of the United States means the probable ultimate rejection of article 10, it may not be of material consequence that this portion of the covenant was flagrantly misrepresented, nevertheless it is of interest that this fact is now conclusively established. The interpretation of article 10 given by President Wilson has been expressly recognized by the present sitting of the assembly at Geneva. Forty-one delegates to the assembly now sitting at Geneva, which represent practically all of the signatories, by resolution placed this construction upon article 10: That it merely condemns external aggression against members and that it does not concern itself with changes of a territorial or political nature produced by any other cause.

The point came up when the application of Austria for membership in the league was under consideration. An attempt was made to in effect give Austria a guarantee of the territorial limits set up by the peace treaty. Objection was made to this construction in behalf of the right of a portion of Austria to place itself by plebiscite under the sovereignty of Switzerland. The League unanimously held that Austria could not be guaranteed its territorial integrity as against the right of self-determination by any part of its people or against revolution. The commission having the matter in charge made this report to the assembly:

We cannot recommend the adoption of the proposition put forward by M. Motta. We are indeed of the opinion that the entry of Austria into the League will in no way prejudice or affect the question so raised. We cannot help adding that the suggestion that admission to the League should have any such effect appears to arise from a misconception regarding article 10. It cannot too emphatically be stated that article 10 does not guarantee the territorial integrity of any member of the league. All it does is to condemn external aggression on the territorial integrity and political independence of any member of the League and calls on the council to consider what measures to take to resist that aggression.

This view was approved without a dissenting vote by the entire league, so that it settles the controversy over article 10 once and for all. No politician can again misconstrue or misrepresent the meaning of article 10 as specifically fixed by the league itself. The League would not interfere in any sense or any manner to suppress civil rebellion or political revolution, or to prevent a colony, dependency or a portion of a state from achieving its independence. Not only this but the League assembly establishes the fact that under article 10 no nation is definitely committed to the use of force to resist aggression against a member. All that the council is empowered to do is to make recommendations, which must be unanimous. The fallacy of the attacks which have been made upon article 10 is thus finally proved. The question can no longer be the subject of dispute. The League has placed a construction on the article and there is no going behind that construction. It is precisely the construction placed on article 10 by President Wilson and all who have defended and supported the covenant.

INFANT MORTALITY

The yearly baby casualty list of the United States is five times as large as the total American casualty list during the World war.

Two hundred and fifty thousand babies die every year, killed just as surely and ruthlessly by the war of ignorance and indifference as though they had been wiped out by machine guns, mutilated by exploding shells or suffocated by deadly gases.

In the nineteen months' fighting, 215,489 United States soldiers were wounded, 13,955 died of their wounds, and 34,625 were killed in battle. During that same year and a half, 390,000 American babies, less than a year old, and 37,000 mothers paid the "supreme sacrifice" largely because of ignorance, poverty and lack of attention.

To prevent this sacrifice in large measure, the Sheppard-Towner bill was formulated. The women of the country, and many of the men, are working to the end that this bill be passed in the next session of congress.

Of every dollar paid into the national treasury, 93 cents goes to pay for past and future wars, for war debts, for pensions, for war risk insurance and for the upkeep of the army and navy departments. One per cent of the government's income is used in the department dealing with human welfare, and of this pitiful proportion .005 is available for women's and children's welfare.

With ordinary health education and instruction for mothers, which the Sheppard-Towner bill will provide, two-thirds of our babies can be saved. This has been definitely proved in some American cities. It has been proved in France, England and other European countries where the protection of maternity and infancy has brought down the appalling mortality 50 per cent.

AMERICAN INVENTORS

America's oldest living inventor has just celebrated his 92nd birthday. He had a good old-time Yankee name—Eliphalet Remington. Hunters know the Remington rifle. Stenographers know the Remington typewriter.

"Shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations." That is a common saying. It goes with the mistaken idea that the child of brilliant parents is necessarily mediocre.

Not so with the Remingtons. For three generations their family has produced brilliant inventors. The flame of genius, handed down from father to son and on to grandson, showed its first spark in 1810 when a Remington youth, having set his heart on a rifle and being denied money to buy one, went into his father's blacksmith shop and made his own—the first Remington rifle.

That boy's descendants have made the Remington name known all over the earth. They have invented rifles, typewriters, farm implements, velocipedes, bicycles, automobiles, sewing machines and recently, phonograph improvements.

Remington is only one of tens of thousands of American names that have made "Yankee ingenuity" an international phrase.

The Scientific American credits Yankee ingenuity with creating six of the world's 10 greatest inventions of the last quarter century. The six are the airplane, electric furnace, moving picture, induction motor, linotype and electric welding. The other four are the Italian wireless, British steam turbine and cyanide process, and the automobile which originated in France and Germany.

Yankee ingenuity is always ahead of the times. There was Nathaniel Briggs of New Hampshire, who took out the first American patent for a washing machine in 1797 and James C. McLean of New Jersey who patented the first American piano in 1796. Today there are American inventors thinking in terms of the year 2000.

TODAY'S POEM

(By Edmund Vance Cooke)

MIDDLE AGE

YOUTH! It is rosy
And fresh as a rose,
As it sings it is fit as a fiddle,
But we, half along,
Send an answering song
That is also in tune in the middle.

Age—has its ripeness;
Its wisdom is stored;
It has reckoned all life and its riddle,
But we, who are yet
In the turmoil and sweat,
Find a work and reward in the middle.

Oh, Age reads its psalms
Under sheltering palms,
While Youth shouts a key-diddle-diddle!
But we reach a hand
Each to each, and we stand,
And we join with them both, in the middle.

More than 1135 Canadian soldiers have settled on grants of 1,726,800 acres of free land throughout the Dominion.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered. In all letters all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

SISTERS WILL BE SISTERS

I wonder, asks a puerile-minded pupil who calls herself a stout matron twenty-five years of age, I wonder if you will decide a most perplexing problem about which my sister, Marie, and I have disagreed.

The particular difficulty is this: Sister Marie maintains most obstinately and unreasonably that "colds" are spread mainly when any one has a "fresh cold." I, on the other hand, and I am sure, she holds that the germs are forcibly ejected from the nose in sneezing or saliva sprayed out in bits of mucus or phlegm or saliva sprayed out from the nose in sneezing, and from the mouth in coughing or talking or laughing, if nose and mouth are not covered with handkerchief or a hideous gauze mask. Moreover, Marie says all this with such a maddening air of assurance. Whereas, I contend ever so gently and smilingly that she is all wrong. I contend that you catch a "cold" simply by inhaling the breath of the wretched person who has the "cold." Of course, sister admits that if one gets close enough to the nose and mouth of the victim to be breathed upon, one is likely to touch the victim and thus is reasonably certain to get some of the germs on one's hands, and so, perhaps, carelessly brush them or carry them into the mouth. Which, of course, is ridiculous, isn't it? Dear Doctor Brady, I put you to the test and tell us how absurd sister Marie's version is and how accurate is my own. Marie will be so anxious to know.

(Signed) "FLO."

ANSWER—Sister Marie wins the red gingham waist. Sister Flo must 'a' been pursuing the almanac. Haven't I said here a hundred times that disease germs do NOT travel through the air—they have no wings. They go where they are put, and often they go in just the way Marie describes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

More Company

Please advise how to get rid of lice on the heads of my children, picked up presumably in school. We have tried everything we have heard of, with no success. Will it be necessary to cut their hair? (C. H. Y.)

ANSWER—No. Saturate the hair for three hours with equal parts of kerosene and vinegar, and cover with a towel or bathing cap. See that the children are kept away from flames. Then shampoo, and dry the hair. If any nits are found on the hair shafts close to the scalp, these are best removed by drawing strands of hair through a soft cloth every time with hot vinegar. Patience and perseverance will overcome the invasion. You must repeat the treatment every day or every alternate day as long as lice or nits remain. And of course all must be treated at the same time, lest one remain a source of reinfection for the others.

Valvular Heart Disease

I am a sufferer from valvular trouble of the heart. Had a physician treat me, but he didn't seem to think there was any cure for it. I have pains around my heart every day. I have never had any bad disease that would bring this on me and never drank to any extent.

ANSWER—Tonsillitis, pneumonia, infected teeth, diseased gums, scarlet fever, acute infectious arthritis (inflammatory rheumatism)—have you had no such disease? Usually valvular disease is a complication or sequel of some such infection. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for a letter of advice about valvular heart disease. By the way, the pain you mention would not ordinarily suggest valvular disease. Valvular heart disease is in the nature of a scar, and of course a scar is a permanent injury, although it does not necessarily disable the victim or seriously handicap him.

Shaving the Armpits

I have heard there is great danger in shaving the armpits. Is there? If so, what is the best means of removing hair from the armpits? (N. J. B.)

ANSWER—Shaving with a safety razor is the best means, and there is no danger.

Callous Treatment

Will you please publish your treatment for callousness and greatly oblige? (Miss L. M. C.)

ANSWER—The young lady across the way finds this solution softens and aids in removing callus:

Salicylic Acid 30 grains
Flexible collodion 1 ounce
Paint the callous each night for a week or ten days.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, Dec. 12, 1895

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, Jr., of Madison, Mo., were visiting Appleton relatives.

The meeting of the Good Citizenship League the night previous was not well attended. The question of the union school system was discussed to some extent.

The special committee of the common council, with the city attorney, had about completed revising and compiling the city ordinances and the result of their work was to be reported to the council at the January meeting.

Ryan high school and Sheboygan high school were to hold a joint debate on the question, "Resolved: That all foreign immigrants, except those who come here for the purpose of literary, scientific or educational pursuits should be excluded for a definite period of time." Ryan high school was to be represented by Joseph Loeb, Joseph Koffert, Jr., and Ocha Potter.

The marriage of Joseph Drexler and Miss Mary Kempfert was announced to take place at Zion Lutheran church at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 17.

Despite a heavy fall of snow the evening previous a large audience assembled at the Fifth ward chapel, where was given a concert and social for the benefit of the organ fund.

Former members of the Phoenix society of Lawrence university were to debate the following evening the question, "Resolved: That woman is man's intellectual superior." The affirmative was to be supported by Humphrey Pierce and John Bottomsok and the negative by A. B. Whitman and the Rev. John Paville. Judge Samuel Boyd was to occupy the president's chair.

The West End Club club was to meet with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Murphy.

GERMAN BIRTHRATE NOT EQUAL PRE-WAR
Washington.—The German birthrate is rising, but has not reached the level of the years before the war. Figures show that in the five provinces of Saxony, Baden, Bavaria, Prussia and Wurttemberg there were born in 1912, 1,632,192 and in 1919, only 1,138,373.

Don't Have Fires.

By Frederic J. Haskin

San Francisco, Calif.—Although it is hard for the visitor to imagine a San Francisco more entrancing than the present one, it seems that such a phenomenon did once exist. This was before the fire. Everybody you meet here tells you so. Praise any feature of the city—its gay restaurants; its beautiful bay; its marvelous Golden Gate Park; its pretty girls; its delicious fish; its charming Presidio, or its picturesque Chinatown—and while the praise will be pleasantly welcomed it will immediately be qualified with: "Ah, but you should have seen them — it — before the fire."

The term "earthquake" rarely enters into the conversation when discussing the disaster which occurred in 1906. The tactful visitor carefully avoids it, and the San Franciscoan ignores it. No one denies that an earthquake did give the city a slight jar in that momentous year, but it was the fire which followed that caused the damage. All that the quake did was to knock over a few lamps and at the same time break the water mains, thus at one blow causing the fire and destroying the means with which to fight it.

In at least one respect, therefore, the new San Francisco, which rose phoenix-like from the ashes of the old, is better than its predecessor. It is practically invulnerable against fire. No second lesson was needed. Everything that could be done has been done to prevent another such catastrophe. San Francisco today is one of the best fire-protected cities in the world. Another quake may knock over as many lamps as it pleases, but the city will never go up in flame as it did before, because, aside from the fact that most of it is now largely fire-proof, an intricate system of water connection has been established so that if the water mains are broken or fail at one place, or even at several places, there will still be plenty of other sources to be tapped.

A Complete System

Shortly after the fire in 1906, a bond issue of five million dollars was raised for the construction of this system. In the first place, there is a high-pressure water supply, furnishing 250 pounds water pressure from three storage reservoirs located in the hills of the city—one at an elevation of 325 feet, one at 425 feet and still another at 750 feet. In these reservoirs twelve million gallons of water are stored for fire-fighting. In addition, there are two high-pressure pumping stations, capable of pumping 10,000 gallons of water per minute each from the Bay. These stations, housed in strictly fire-proof buildings, are so equipped that they could operate for a stretch of four days, if completely shut off from the rest of the city. The system also has a connection with two steel fire-boats in the harbor, which can pump water into the high-pressure hydrants when the supply of fresh water becomes exhausted.

Furthermore, any section of the city can be cut off from the rest if it becomes necessary to concentrate the water supply. If a pipe should break in any section, this could be immediately shut off by valves. These valves are located at every street crossing, so that the city can be segregated a block at a time.

Located in various sections, moreover, are one hundred cisterns containing anywhere from 16,000 to 100,000 gallons of water each, so that if all the water mains should break and every other source of supply become exhausted, the fire department would still have these to fall back upon. But even this is not all. The law requires that every tank in San Francisco, holding 5,000 gallons of water must have a special connection with the city water system, in case the fire department should need to use it. Inasmuch as most of the large office buildings have such tanks for supplying running water and drinking water to the various offices, they constitute a valuable reinforcement to all the other water resources.

No city has stricter laws on the subject of fire-protection than San Francisco. Every building of four stories or more must have a fire-escape. All two-story buildings operated for public use must be supplied with them, and any building over one-story in which ten or more women are employed is required to be so equipped. Every building in which oil is burned must be supplied with an automatic cut-off, or if it hasn't one, the plant must be under the supervision of a competent person who cannot be absent more than twenty minutes at a time.

Only three types of buildings may be erected: Type "A," which is strictly fire-proof; type "B," of reinforced concrete, and type "C," consisting of heavy timber or steel framework, and masonry exterior. In some sections of the city shingle roofs, which are particularly frowned upon by the fire department, are prohibited.

Fire Prevention

In addition to all these precautions, the city maintains a very efficient Fire Prevention Bureau, which deluges the schools with fire prevention literature, and which is now carrying on an astonishingly comprehensive scheme for bringing every residence and building in San Francisco under the immediate supervision of the Fire Department. Every city block is now daily investigated by the firemen of its district. On the first visit, a sketch of the first and second floors of every house and store and building is made and turned into the Fire Prevention Bureau, which is gradually compiling a huge Block Record. In other words, a diagram of every building in the city is to be on file in the Fire Department, so that upon the breaking out of a fire in a certain building on Post Street, for example, the Fire Department can turn to this number in their files and see exactly what kind of a place it is—where its entrances and flues are, how many people it contains, what it is used for.

With firemen patrolling the city in the cause of fire-prevention, as policemen patrol it in the cause of crime-prevention, life and property in San Francisco are becoming safer and safer. Every little detail about every house—the condition of its walls, the character of its rubbish, the size of its oil supply and where it is kept (all being used almost entirely in the place of coal here)—is reported to the Fire Prevention Bureau, with a lengthy report if there is an existing fire risk.

The owner of the premises is given from two to ten days to remedy any dangerous risk, after which, if he does not comply with the law, he is ordered to appear at the district attorney's office and make his report. If it is not sufficiently convincing, another fire inspector accompanies him back to his store or residence and sees that the department's recommendations are carried out.

Firemen Have Police Power

In enforcing fire regulations, the department possesses police power, as well as the cooperation of the association of fire underwriters. If a factory is in serious condition, the Industrial Accident Commission is notified, and it sends its inspector, who has police power. In San Francisco the owners of apartment houses must secure permits every year in order to rent their apartments, and in the case of the infringement of fire regulations, these permits are held up until the necessary precautions have been taken. In the same way, the department can order electrical companies to cease supplying electric power to any plants not complying with the fire laws.

Ninety per cent of the fires which kill thousands of people and destroy millions of dollars worth of property in this country every year are due to carelessness, according to Chief Martin J. Kearns of the San Francisco Fire Prevention Bureau. The most frequent causes of fires, as shown by fire department records, are rubbish and refuse and smokers' carelessness. Thus, the residents of every city as well as those of San Francisco, should be interested in the following list of suggestions written down for the reporter by Chief Kearns.

Beginning with the attic, don't pile the stairs with books and boxes, which would obstruct the path of the fireman in case of fire. Don't pile old papers and magazines against the chimney, as heat may be generated in these some day and may start a fire, or a crack in the chimney may be developed through which sparks may fall. Don't hang thin electric light cords from nails or over boards. The insulation on these cords will soon wear off, the wires will spark, and if your fuses are not just right, the insulation will start to burn. This is true of every part of the house as well as the attic. Remember that spontaneous combustion also often occurs in piles of old clothes.

Don't leave furniture rags and mops soaked in oil in a corner or shelf of a closet. Rags with these oils on them can catch fire by themselves in a warm atmosphere, hence they should always be placed in metal cans. Don't smoke in bed; you are taking a chance every time you do so. Electric bed warmers are also dangerous unless used with the utmost caution. Some people use an electric light bulb for this purpose, and numerous fires have resulted from this cause. Never throw rubbish and ashes in anything but a metal can or box; and never try to light a fire with kerosene. Always determine at night, before retiring, just what you would do if awakened suddenly to find the house on fire and the ordinary means of escape cut off.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

If your thermos bottle has not been used for some time it will very likely be a bit musty.

Before filling it, it's a good plan to rinse it out with soda water. For a pint bottle put a quarter of a teaspoon of soda in the bottle, fill with hot water, cork and let stand a few minutes. Shake well. This sweetens the cork as well as the bottle. Turn out the soda water and rinse again with hot, clear water.

If this treatment is used there will be no danger of any one complaining of a "funny" taste about the coffee from a thermos bottle.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

CLOSED SEASON FOR DEER WANTED

Conservation Commission Seeks Law to Protect Deer From Extinction.

Madison—The legislature will be asked by the state conservation commission to order a closed season for deer hunting for at least two years. Chairman W. B. Barber, after investigating conditions in northern Wisconsin, declared that only by having a closed season for at least two years can extermination be prevented. He points out that more licenses are being issued every year in spite of the decreasing number of deer. This year there were 70,000 licenses issued as compared with 68,000 licenses a year ago.

"There have been few violations of the one buck law," declared Mr. Barber. In a few places hunters have shot a doe or a fawn and in many such instances the animal has been turned over to the conservation ward. But there has been general observance of the order. The fact is that there are few deer in northern Wisconsin and if they are to be protected the coming legislature must order a closed season for at least two years. Last year 25,000 deer were killed in northern Wisconsin. The number killed this year will not exceed 2,500. The simple fact is that the deer has been almost exterminated."

Albert E. Mielenz of Milwaukee, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Oscar Hiddle of New London, was an Appleton business caller Tuesday.

George Schommer of Kaukauna, was in the city on business Tuesday.

FEWER WORKERS IN BADGER FACTORIES

Report Shows Decline in Number of Employees in Many Industries.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison—The number of persons employed by self-insured employers in Wisconsin in October was 10.9 per cent less than the number of persons those same employers employed in February of this year and 8.8 per cent less than the number employed in July, according to the Labor Market Report of the Industrial Commission. The total earnings of employees in these factories were 2.4 per cent less in October than in July.

These statistics indicate a close parallel between the conditions in Wisconsin and in New York, where employment statistics have been issued currently for many years by the industrial commission of that state. The commission's figures show a decline of 9 per cent between March, 1920, and October, 1920, in the number of employees. Prior to July the decline in the number of employees was considerably greater in New York than in Wisconsin, but during the last months conditions have been the reverse.

The Wisconsin statistics also show a close parallel with the New York statistics in the average weekly earnings of employees. These average weekly earnings for all factories reporting in New York in October were $23.93, while in the same month the average in Wisconsin was $23.26.

There was a decline in the number of employees in all industries in Wisconsin during October, except mining, stone-crushing and quarrying, meat packing, bakeries and confectioneries, printing and publishing, and railroad repair shops. The most pronounced decline was in the metal and machinery group, with woodworking a close second.

MERRILL HIGH SCHOOL ADOPTS SESSION PLAN

Merrill—New ideas are to be incorporated in the Merrill High school when the new session is completed, according to Supt. H. W. Kircher. No teacher will be given a definite room, as is the case in most high schools. All rooms will be used as recitation rooms and each teacher will have her individual desk in a general teachers' room from which she will take work to the recitation room the same as does the pupil. Two large rooms with curtains in their center will take the place of the auditorium study room and when not needed for purposes of study the center curtain can be drawn down and each half of the room may be used either for study or recitation work. An auditorium will be incorporated in the annex, equipped with chairs to seat 1,200. Only when the entire school is desired in a unit will the students meet there. The use of a large assembly room is being discouraged in educational circles, according to Mr. Kircher.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralizes Irritating Acids—Splendid for System

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

PROPOSE HIGHER PAY FOR INJURED WORKMEN

Madison—Increases in the rate of compensation of injured workmen in Wisconsin are to be proposed to the legislature, Senator J. Henry Bennett of Viroqua announced. The present rate is so inadequate he says, that it probably should be doubled. He also proposes that the attorney fees granted in compensation cases, should be increased.

AYRES' REPORT ON SCHOOLS UNJUST

C. P. Cary, in La Crosse Speech, Comes to Defense of Badger Schools.

La Crosse—The Ayres report on the school situation in the United States and insular possessions was attacked as an unjust and absurd statement on the educational situation in Wisconsin by C. P. Cary, state superintendent of public instruction, before the La Crosse county community council.

Wisconsin was ranked thirty-third in the list of states in point of educational efficiency, and it was the methods through which the Ayres report reached this conclusion that stirred Mr. Cary.

"The Ayres report stands on two legs," said Mr. Cary. "The first is attendance at public schools and the other is the money cost of elementary and high schools in the state. Nothing is said about educational results. The report merely talks about money and attendance. In this report our training of teachers counts for nothing; our supervision counts for nothing; courses of study count for nothing. Every teacher in the state might go far as this report is concerned, be no better than an eighth grade graduate. Such a condition would not reduce our standing in the least."

"Ayres says in effect: The most expensive school is the best school. This makes no allowance for economy; it makes no allowance for what the dollar will buy here as against what it will buy in Montana or the canal zone. It takes no account of whether the state is new and rapidly growing in population, necessitating large expenditures for building and equipment, or well developed educationally, so that unusual expenditures are not necessary. The Ayres' report is nothing short of absurd as an educational document."

"No state in the union excels Wisconsin's system of supervision. We have in Wisconsin trained teachers and they are under good supervision. Our courses of study have been ranked among the best in the United States by those who have studied them. There is no state in the union that has a better professional spirit among its educational workers."

FIND SMALL BREWERY IN SALOON BASEMENT

La Crosse—Equipment for the making of home brew, which federal prohibition officers termed the equivalent of a small brewery, was seized when agents raided Bohemian hall, a saloon in the south end of La Crosse. In the basement of the officers claim they found 150 gallons of beer in the making, twelve cases filled with bottles of the finished product, a three-burner stove, and jars and kettles capable of turning out 220 gallons at one brew.

F. J. Krutzer, proprietor of the saloon, will be arraigned in United States court. In another place, conducted by C. H. Kriesse, several bottles of home brew were found, it is alleged, but no devices for making the product.

Scouts Begin Work As Auxiliary Firemen

Three Companies of Fire Fighting Scouts Are Ready for Business.

Should a serious fire break out in Appleton from now on, every fire fighter will be able to stay at the place where he is needed most. There will be no need to drop the hose or forsake other essential duties to run back to the apparatus for tools, to shut off a hydrant or do other minor tasks.

All this will be cared for by 19 boys who know what every tool is called and where it is to be found. The boys will also know how to connect hose to hydrants, turn water on and off, replace bursted hose sections; in fact, how to perform every duty out of reach of a fire itself.

Complete organization of the boy scout auxiliary to the fire department was completed at a meeting of about 25 scouts at fire station No. 1. The plans were explained fully by Chief George P. McGilgan and E. R. Henderson, scout executive, and first lessons in the use of equipment were given.

Henderson is Chief. Mr. Henderson will serve as chief of the auxiliary department. There are three companies, two to serve with No. 1 fire station and a third with No. 2 company on State street. Boys were assigned according to the proximity of their residences to the stations. Each company has a captain and lieutenant. The personnel will be:

Company No. 1. First and sixth ward inspection districts. Robert W. Currie, captain; Boyd Schwager, lieutenant; Burton Manser, Richard Tuttrup, Kenneth Schwager, Robert Gallagher, Donald Hyde and Richard Heideman.

Company No. 2. Second and fourth ward inspection. Merrill Schell, captain; Royal LaRose, lieutenant; John Ryan, John Harriman, Donald McGregor.

Company No. 3. Third and fifth ward inspection. Edward Dohr, captain; Harry Ueth, lieutenant; Joseph Dohr, Carl Grassberger, Reed Winsey, Clyde Schwerbel, John Schiebel and William Fountain.

Fire Prevention. The biggest task of the embryo firemen this winter will be fire prevention. Every part of the city except the business and three factory sections will be assigned to certain scouts who will be on the constant lookout for fire hazards. They will report any such condition to Louis McGilgan, head of fire inspection in Appleton, as soon as discovered.

Each captain will be responsible for inspection of his district composed of two wards. The districts will be subdivided and one scout assigned to each unit of territory, in which he will be responsible for fire hazards. The state law requiring four inspections a year will be carried out, but the boys will carry the prevention work further through a constant alertness.

What Are Hazards? This work alone will be of value to Appleton. Mr. Henderson states, because the members of the department cannot watch all parts of the city at all times. First lessons in inspection were given by Louis McGilgan, who explained what would be considered a fire hazard, such as piling ashes against a wooden structure or placing them in wooden containers, letting rubbish accumulate against buildings, and other things.

It was a complete surprise to the boys to find how many tools and other pieces of equipment are carried on the fire trucks. They were all laid out by the firemen and their names and uses explained by Chief McGilgan. The method of turning in an alarm was explained and the scouts were taught how to read the tape when an alarm came in. Weekly drill will be held from now on until the young firemen know the apparatus "from a to z." Outdoor duties will be taught when spring weather arrives.

Only first class scouts are admitted to membership in the auxiliary fire department. Each boy who passes the preliminary fire tests will receive a metal badge somewhat similar to those worn by the city firemen, but with different wording. This badge will permit the scouts to pass within the fire lines or go about unharmed on fire duties. No boy will be permitted to go close enough to the actual fire to bring him in contact with danger.

A meeting of fire captains was held Wednesday afternoon at which the inspection districts were laid out and the scouts assigned to their territories.

SEEK REMEDY FOR CANCELLING EVIL

National Trade Body Would Put Stop to Trade Demoralization.

The cancellation evil that has hit the business world seems to have broken all bounds. Its demoralizing influence has led the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to find a remedy, according to a bulletin received by the local chamber. It invites Appleton business men to send in their suggestions.

The few cancellations that trickled in early in the year were welcomed by many manufacturers because their plants were far behind on orders. But as prices began to tumble and the tide of refusals set in, the seriousness of the situation was manifest. The retailer cancelled to the jobber and the wholesaler and they in return to the manufacturer. The latter cancelled to those supplying raw materials.

Three opinions are advanced by the fabricated production department of the national chamber concerning this situation. It is held to be the result of war time irregularities and will pass as the country returns to a normal basis.

The department also states that the nation is reaping the results of loose business practices inaugurated before the war, when many lines were in a state of overproduction and the measures taken to unload this surplus were demoralizing. A general reformation of order taking is urged, making each order a contract enforceable by law.

It is also stated that many firms have been drifting away from the fundamentals of sound business and the "golden rule," and that a return to these is needed.

Buyers have often been induced to stock up by such assurances as "we will take care of you," or "you may return the goods." These are said to be some of the undermining factors and everybody seemed to be doing it. Many banks are blamed for favoring cancellations as a means of a quick return to a normal state.

Somebody paid the bill, the chamber states, because business failures increased rapidly between May and November. Dun's reports show the volume of commercial failures in May, 1920, to be $10,826,177, and in October, 1920, $38,914,659. Failures in October a year ago totalled only a little over $6,000,000.

A remedy is suggested in giving a man or firm no higher rating if he habitually repudiates his contracts than if he lets his notes and drafts go to protest. Each line of trade should examine its contract making and order taking methods to bring them strictly within legal lines.

The most effective remedy will probably be found in a return to first principles; to where a house can point to itself as one that "fills its orders and keeps its contracts."

BREEDERS INTERESTED IN BROWN COUNTY SALE

Holstein breeders of Outagamie county are showing interest in a sale to be conducted by the Brown County Holstein Breeders association at the northeastern Wisconsin fair grounds on May 9.

Arrangements have already been made for the sale of 20 A. R. O. cows and 40 daughters of A. R. O. cows. This is believed to be the largest number of pure bred cows ever disposed of at a county Holstein sale in Wisconsin.

J. N. Kavanaugh, county agent of Brown county, will have charge of the sale.

ASYLUM ROAD TO BE PAVED NEXT YEAR

Federal Aid Will Be Applied on Next Year's Paving Project.

The asylum road from Richmond street to the county asylum is to be paved next season thru federal aid and is to be a continuation of the pavement of the Dale-Medina road which was also a federal aid project. The plans and specifications are being prepared by O. C. Rollman of Green Bay, district engineer, and will be submitted by him to the Wisconsin state highway commission and after being approved will be turned over to A. G. Bruzewitz, county highway commissioner, for bids. O. F. Welschberger, city engineer, was called to Green Bay Tuesday on business pertaining to the plans.

The matter of closing the gap in the pavement on Second avenue from Richmond street to Leminwah street, a distance of a mile and a half, will be up to the city. One mile, from Richmond street to Freedom road, whenever the work is ordered, will be borne by the city exclusively, while under the arrangement in effect for forty years the other half mile will be borne by Appleton and the town of Grand Chute jointly, the highway forming the boundary line between the city and town.

Whether this work will be ordered the coming summer is a matter of conjecture. Whenever the gap is closed it will give a continuous pavement on Trunk Line No. 16 in this part of the state.

FARMERS FIX UP
COUNTRY ROADS

Gravelling and Grading Activity Is Seen All Over the County.

The mild weather has remained so long that farmers finished their plowing and turned their efforts toward road fixing. It is said there has not been so much road activity all summer in some townships as now.

Farmers are hauling many loads of gravel to fill up the low spots on the side roads. They are grading the surface with split log drag and turning rough roadways to virtual country boulevards. Autoists say the roads were never in better shape at this time of the year.

The rural mail carriers are most appreciative of the road work done in the country, as some of the side roads were said to be almost impassable during the recent wet spell. They hope the mild weather and good road conditions last until January.

A year ago at this time the carriers were forced to give up their automobiles and take to horses. There was about a foot of snow and good sleighing. The temperature had been below the zero mark several times. It is a very unsatisfactory experience for the rural force to go back to horses, as some of them are through with their routes by noon with automobiles, and it takes well toward the end of the day to make the rounds with a horse.

MAKE FORTUNES IN TEXAS OIL LEASES

Texan Comes to Appleton to Visit Officers of Second Regiment.

"Companies and individuals that take up leases on oil lands and sell them are making money," said C. M. Trautschold of Waco, Texas, who was in Appleton, Wednesday calling on Capt. George Merkel, whom he had not seen since the officer was stationed in Waco early in the war with Germany. Mr. Trautschold entertained the Second regiment officers during their stay at Waco and is calling on them during his visit to his boyhood home at Sheboygan. He is president of the C. M. Trautschold company, manufacturers of sash and doors.

Mr. Trautschold has been located at Waco for the last thirty years and says that the state of Texas has developed wonderfully since the war. Oil has taken the lead within the last few years and fortunes are being made daily. Railroads are being constructed into all parts of the state and farming is becoming an important industry. The state is paying special attention to its roads and is just commencing to build concrete pavements. Manufacturing is developing rapidly and is confined to no particular line.

While he was born in Wisconsin, this was Mr. Trautschold's first visit to Appleton and Capt. Merkel made it a point to show him all the interesting points. He was particularly interested in the concrete roads running into Appleton. While here Mr. Trautschold called on his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Parsley of Appleton Junction who have lately moved here from Sheboygan.

HOUSE SHORTAGE SOLVES ITSELF

City Houses Vacated as Factory Workers Return to the Country.

There is no scarcity of houses in the cities of the country according to the way Robert Blackburn, a wholesale lumber dealer of Milwaukee, views the present situation. Mr. Blackburn is one of the most widely known lumber dealers who visit Appleton and while here Wednesday stated that the housing problem would be solved by the present business depression sending back to the country, villages and smaller towns the thousands of people that were lured to the large cities by high wages and short hours.

"In the mining country in northern Michigan hundreds of houses were vacated," he said, "by miners that had gone to work in the automobile plants at Detroit, where they could earn more money, but since these plants have curtailed their output they are gradually drifting back. As the manufacturing plants close down here and there the young men from the farms are also returning home, where they will be found hereafter."

Mr. Blackburn does not look for an improvement for some time. He said that the bottom had dropped out of the wholesale lumber market and that it was beginning to affect the retailers, many of whom were already selling lumber at less than they paid for it. He anticipates a big building

WHOLESALE PRICES OF BUTTER AND CHEESE DROP

Cheese dropped in price this week and twins are now selling at 19 cents per pound wholesale; single daisies at 21 cents; double daisies at 20½ cents; long horns at 22 cents; and square prints at 23¼ cents.

By way of comparison the wholesale prices of cheese on Nov. 29 were: twins, 24 cents; single daisies, 26½ cents; double daisies, 24 cents; long horns, 26 cents; square prints, 28½ cents.

The reduction in prices is said to be due to the general tendency of lower prices. Butter has also dropped and the wholesale prices is now 50 cents per pound. Two weeks ago there was a reduction of six cents wholesale and last week there was another reduction of three cents.

MORE DECLINES IN GRAIN PRICES

Heavy Selling and Little Buying Force Prices to Fall Slightly.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Grain prices continued their decline on the Chicago board of trade today. Some strength was shown at the opening due to covering by shorts and the heavy export sale on Wednesday. However, weakness soon developed and declines were recorded in all quotations due to heavy selling with little buying power. Provisions were lower.

December wheat was up half at the opening of $1.20 1/2 and in later trading lost 1/4. March wheat opened unchanged at $1.07, subsequently dropping 1/4.

December corn lost 1/4 at the opening, 7 1/4, later lost 1/4. May corn, after opening off 1/4 at 7 1/2, dropped half before the close. July corn was unchanged at the opening, 7 1/2, but in later trading slumped 1/4.

December oats opened unchanged at 48 1/2, and subsequently lost 1/4. May oats was unchanged at the opening, 52 1/2, later dropping 1/4. July oats opened off 1/4 at 51 1/4, losing an additional half later.

ARMY DESERTER SAYS HE WAS SPY

Former U. S. Officer Said He Enlisted to Betray Troops to Germans

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Army officials today investigated the weird tale of John Willers, 30, former army captain, who after his arrest on a charge of desertion declared he was a German spy and had enlisted for the purpose of betraying his American comrades in France.

Willers was arrested after he had been recognized by Hugh J. Hannigan, former lieutenant in the Forty-eighth infantry, in which Willers was a captain. Hannigan alleged that shortly after the armistice was signed, Willers absconded with $6,000 in company funds from Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C.

After admitting his identity, Willers is alleged to have declared that he was one of 300 German imperial cadets who came to this country in 1914 to act as spies. He said it was their purpose to win army commissions and, in case the United States declared war on Germany, to lead their comrades into traps on the front.

"I have nothing to regret," Willers was quoted as saying.

"I only did what a soldier of the fatherland should have done and I am sorry that I was unable to get across and fulfill my purpose of leading my regiment into the trenches and then see that it was slaughtered."

"You would be surprised to know how many high German officials held jobs in Washington during the war."

UNIVERSITY OBJECTS TO CHARGE OF "BUNK"

Janesville—The University of Wisconsin has entered the fight which centers around the county agent here, and takes exception to statements made about County Agent Glassco's "university bunk" when the county board passed a motion to abolish the office, in communicating with Lucien O. Holman, manager of the Janesville Chamber of Commerce, F. B. Morrison, assistant director of the college of agriculture, emphatically denies that the work is "bunk" and that much aid has been rendered to farmers of Rock county.

PHILLIPS NEEDS NEW WATER SUPPLY

Railroad Commission Authorizes Increased Rate—Criticizes Water.

Madison—Phillips should have a new water supply, in the opinion of the railroad commission. The Phillips Light, Water, Heat and Power company applied for authority to increase rates. The city council requested the commission to make an investigation of the electric and water rates, and determine the value of the portion of the utility furnishing each. The commission issued an order authorizing an increase in both water and electric rates. In the order the commission says a community the size of Phillips should be supplied with palatable water rather than with the poor quality of surface water such as is now being supplied, and it is our recommendation that the city take steps to secure an independent water supply.

The Owen Telephone company, which supplies service in the villages of Owen and Withee and adjoining territory was authorized to increase its rates. The new net rates are: Business, one party, $27 per year; business, two party, $24; residence, one party, $21; residence, two party, $18; rural residence, $4.50 per quarter.

The Oxford and New Haven Independent Telephone company is authorized to put in force a rate of $12 per year applicable to both stockholders and nonstockholders.

The city of Onalaska, which owns and operates its water utility, was authorized to increase its rates about 50 per cent.

G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans, is at Minneapolis on business.

KENOSHA'S TAX LEVY HIGHEST IN HISTORY

Kenosha—Kenosha is facing the highest tax levy in its history, according to statement of Chairman Fabel of the finance committee of the city council, who has asked for a levy of forty mills for the coming year. It is expected that the report will be met with great opposition at the meeting of the council. The forty mill tax coupled with the recent increase of twenty-five per cent in the valuation of property in Kenosha will give this city the highest tax levy of any city in Wisconsin. An overloaded bond market is given for the cause of the high levy.

FOREST RESERVE PLAN FOR LINCOLN COUNTY

Merrill—A forest reserve for Lincoln county is possible, according to John Cotter, president of the county board, who says there is a strip of hardwood timber from Grandfather Falls east to the county line, two miles wide and twelve miles in length, which is unfit for farming and which would be superior for timber growth to any present timber reserve in northern Wisconsin, owing to the fact that it will grow hardwood timber, for which there will always be a big demand.

Cleaning out the reserve would yield a large amount of fuel while the reserve proper would produce much merchantable hardwood for future use. The land can be had at $5 to $10 an acre and is too rough for farming, although highly productive.

If the county cannot get permission to purchase the reserve, the state ought to relinquish some of the impossible forest reserve land in northern Wisconsin in favor of this strip, says Mr. Cotter.

LEGION URGES SCHOOLS TO TEACH PATRIOTISM

Janesville—Proposal by the American Legion that children of the city schools be instructed in patriotism and sanitation is being considered by Supt. Frank O. Holt, who is outlining a course of study and lectures to be given in the grade and high schools.

Attempts will be made to have all school children of Janesville gain an intimate knowledge of historical affairs tending to promote patriotism. Historic songs, national songs and anthems will be learned, and it is planned to have members of the Rock County Bar association and veterans of American wars talk to the students.

Physicians will also be asked to talk, and books on sanitation are now being distributed in the grade schools.

FINE ONE GYPSY AND THE REST LEAVE TOWN

La Crosse—Fining of one woman $50 and costs was sufficient to drive all Gypsy fortune tellers out of business. Four women and consorts maintained a downtown office for six weeks reaping a financial harvest. They avoided arrests for weeks by appearing to practice phrenology, which is not prohibited by the authorities. Fortune telling was prohibited by an order made by the common council in 1910.

TRAINING TRIPS TO BE SHORTENED

Owners and Players Object to Long Workouts Before Season Starts.

By Henry L. Farrell
By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Short training trips probably will be an innovation of the preparation for the 1921 major league season.

Miller Huggins, the sawed-off manager of the New York Yankees, is the first out with training plans indicating a departure from the custom of long tedious training.

Hugh Duffy, the new pilot of the Boston Red Sox, also says he will not keep his squad at work for a protracted period in the south.

High hotel rates along with increasing prices of other accommodations are making training seasons very expensive for the magnates and from a physical standpoint, trainers are becoming convinced that more harm than good results from long work in the spring.

Pat Moran had a lamentable experience last year at Miami, with his

ASPIRIN
Name "Bayer" on Genuine

It's criminal to take a chance on any substitute for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocarbonyl-oester of Salicylic acid.

ARRANGE SCHEDULE FOR H. S. TOURNAMENT

The interclass tournament of the high school will begin next Monday with a game between the seniors and the juniors. The sophomores and freshmen will play the second game Monday.

On Tuesday, games will be played between the seniors and the sophomores, and between the junior quint and the freshmen.

The senior team and the freshmen will play for honors on Wednesday, the last day of the tournament. The juniors will meet the sophomores in the last game.

The team with the highest percentage will be declared the winner of the tournament.

Cincinnati Reds. During a long stay in that fashionable place, the Reds found time to do things other than train and it was mid-season before some of them reached form.

Fewer exhibition games between the clubs will be staged this spring. While it has been found a good way to bring in money to help foot the bills, the players object to a series of "one day stands."

The New York Giants suffered by their long series of games last spring. It is also a dangerous undertaking as the Yankees discovered last spring, when Chick Fewster, one of their most promising youngsters, was put out for the season by a pitched ball by Jeff Pfeffer, the Brooklyn fast ball pitcher.

Some few games will be staged, however. The Tanks and the Dodgers will play around Shreveport, where the Tanks will train and Tris Speaker wants the Giants to come to Dallas for some exhibitions with his world champion Indians.

On the subject of spring training, it will be interesting to watch the attitude of Ty Cobb, if he is named manager of the Detroit Tigers, which seems probable now.

Cobb persistently has refused to train in the spring with the club and his attitude was partially responsible for the dissolution of the club.

MADISON QUINT WANTS TO PLAY IN APPLETON

The Speth Five, Madison's city basketball champions, are out looking for new scalps, according to a letter received here. They seek a game to be played here this month by some good Appleton team. Challenges are to be addressed to A. G. Thomas, manager, 127 West Johnson street, Madison.

NATIONAL GUARDS PLAN CAGE TOURNEY

Appleton Is Pitted Against Oshkosh, Menasha and New London.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison.—Instead of holding district tournaments prior to the state military basketball tournament, the committee drawing up rules governing the tournament has decided that each team in each district must play every other team in the district twice during the season, the team with the highest average to represent the district in the state meet. This change was adopted on the grounds that in a district tournament the best team might, through a run of poor luck be eliminated from the running in the opening game. In case two or more teams are tied they are to play it off to decide the leader.

The district schedule is to commence Feb. 1, 1921. Any team in the Wisconsin National Guard can enter by Jan. 15. No man can compete in any of the official games unless his enlistment papers have been on file in the Adjutant General's office by Jan. 15. The state tournament, to be held at some place to be decided later, will be held the last week in March or the first of April.

The visiting team is to receive 10 per cent of the gross receipts. There will be no hiring of players, although any bona fide member of a company is eligible for competition.

The districts have not been arranged with an equal number of men, an effort having been made to group the teams to eliminate travel to the minimum. Each district chairman is to consult with teams in his group in arranging schedules. The districts and chairmen are:

No. 1, Lieut. C. A. Dawson, River Falls, chairman; River Falls, Menomonie, Chippewa Falls (two teams); Stanley, Rice Lake.

No. 2, Capt. T. E. Thorson, Ashland, chairman; Ashland, Rhinelander, Crandon.

No. 3, Capt. R. T. Hill, Menasha, chairman; Appleton, Menasha, Oshkosh (two teams), New London.

No. 4, Capt. N. M. Schantz, Hartford, chairman; Hartford, Oconomowoc (two teams), Port Atkinson, Jefferson.

No. 5, Capt. J. J. Irvine, Neillsville, chairman; Neillsville, Sparta, La Crosse.

No. 6, Capt. Ralph Harmon, Janesville, chairman; Madison (two teams), Janesville, Beloit.

No. 7, Capt. E. J. Schmidt, Manitowish, chairman; Manitowish, Sheboygan, Two Rivers.

Lieut. Col. Byron Severidge of the Adjutant General's Office, was appointed Secretary of the tournament committee.

Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES
USED BY 4,000 MEN

That men and boys are making use of the Y. M. C. A. is shown by the record for the month of November. The number of men who attended gymnasium classes during November was 1,072; and 1,053 boys received the benefit of the gymnasium work.

The total number of men and boys who took part in all activities of the Y. M. C. A. is over 4,000.

Approximately 2,000 men and boys used the swimming tank last month, and during that time 240 were instructed in the art of swimming.

Navin said he expected to discuss the matter with Cobb and lay plans for the 1921 season. It is expected that Detroit will pick its training site as soon as the managership question is settled.

Chicago.—Champion Bob Cannofax, of San Francisco, will meet Johnny Layton, of St. Louis, in the third round of the three cushion world's championship series here today.

Layton, a three to two favorite against the champion, has already defeated the other two contenders, Clarence Jackson, of Kansas City, and Augie Kleckhefer, of Chicago.

Cannofax took his first licking last night. Jackson beat him 75 to 69 in 85 innings.

Jackson will meet Kleckhefer this afternoon.

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Schlitz Brothers Company, Volz's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy have been appointed agents for Allenhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

The Fox River-Tellusah squad was downed by a score of 20 to 14 in a game with the Woolen-Machine mill players.

The standings of the teams is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Kimberly-Clark	3	0	1.000

Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES
USED BY 4,000 MEN

That men and boys are making use of the Y. M. C. A. is shown by the record for the month of November. The number of men who attended gymnasium classes during November was 1,072; and 1,053 boys received the benefit of the gymnasium work.

The total number of men and boys who took part in all activities of the Y. M. C. A. is over 4,000.

Approximately 2,000 men and boys used the swimming tank last month, and during that time 240 were instructed in the art of swimming.

HOPPE RETAINS TITLE AT BALK LINE BILLIARDS

New York.—Willie Hoppe, billiard champion, who successfully defended his 18.2 balk line title in the championship series which closed here last night, will meet Ed. Edouard Horrmans, the Belgian champion, for the world's championship early in the new year.

The managers of the two cue stars were to meet here today to discuss final plans for the match.

In the final match for the American championship last night, Hoppe beat Walker Cochran, 400 to 144. In the afternoon semi-final he won from Jake Schaefer by a score of 400 to 54.

His high run of 239 scored against Schaefer is a new record for the championship tournament but is less than his world's record of 303 in competition.

The entire card was excellent but the attendance was disappointing. Too many conflicting attractions kept the crowd down but those in attendance made up in enthusiasm for their lack of numbers.

Hill outweighed Istok by about five pounds, but that didn't account for the difference between the men. The Appleton grappler is stronger and faster than his opponent and had him at his mercy much of the time. He should be an excellent drawing card if more bouts are arranged here.

Henry Stoef, Oshkosh middleweight, challenged the winner and it is possible he will be accommodated.

College grapplers put on two excellent bouts as preliminaries. In the second bout Atkinson and Pace, 135 pound men, wrestled five minutes before Atkinson could sneak over a double bar arm hold and pinned Pace to the mat.

Thomas and Bidick, 155 pounders, wrestled fifteen minutes to a draw. A couple of young bantams, Kid Horner and Young Riley, tumbled around the mat fifteen minutes to a draw in the first preliminary.

CONVICTED POLITICIAN TAKES OVER NEWSPAPER

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Louis, S. D.—Sentenced to serve two years in the state penitentiary yesterday, George E. Egan, prominent politician, assumed control of the Sioux Falls Press today, that newspaper announced.

Egan was convicted last May of having made fraudulent affidavits in regard to insurance papers when he suffered a fire loss.

Judge Frank E. Smith pronounced sentence Tuesday. Attorneys gave notice of appeal.

League Continues Its Work as Dissenters Prepare to Leave for Home.

By Henry Wood
By United Press Leased Wire
Geneva—Argentina's delegation to the league of nations assembly wound up its affairs today. The members headed by Honorable Puerron, will leave for home the latter part of the week.

The assembly, meanwhile, proceeded with its task as if nothing had occurred. There were a few regrets expressed yesterday.

The organization showed its determination to reject Argentina's amendments for the time being, by referring them to a committee to be reported on at the next session.

The only amendments to the covenant to receive attention at this session were in the form of a set of principles determining relations between the council and assembly. These gave the assembly power to examine the decision of the council and provide for a report from the council to the assembly.

"Any interpretation of my efforts for the admission of all states to the league as intended primarily in behalf of Germany," is entirely false," Puerron told the United Press today.

POSTPONE ACTION ON WAR FINANCE COMPANY

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Senator Gronna, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, announced today after a conference with other senators from farm states, that the efforts to pass a resolution reviving the war finance corporation would be postponed until tomorrow.

Testimony given before Gronna's committee in support of the resolution has not yet been printed, and Gronna said he wanted to have it in the hands of every senator before renewing his efforts.

Revival of the corporation was proposed to aid farmers hit by falling prices.

President-elect Harding Plans Special Session Early Next March

By Raymond Clapper
By United Press Leased Wire
Marion, Ohio—Politicians which will guide the government during the Harding administration were being formulated here today.

The president-elect arrived home facing a long siege of work preparatory to taking over the administrative reins March 4.

The program confronting him included conferences with the nation's political leaders with regard to selection of a cabinet, mapping out a scheme of international relations and drafting a legislative program.

Although Harding plans to call into conference leaders of all shades of opinion those names thus far made public are, with the exception of George Harvey, generally considered to favor the present league of nations with certain reservations or amendments.

Herbert Hoover arrives here Sunday and following him Harding will see the retiring president, Charles E. Hughes and ex-President Taft. Others will be called later.

Harding stated today the special session of congress will be convened some time in March so that its work can be cleaned up early in the summer if possible. The call will be issued by him shortly after inauguration. A special session of the senate immediately after inauguration is necessary for confirmation of cabinet appointments but the call for this probably will be issued according to the custom by the retiring president.

Harding's desire to avoid further speeches before March 4. It is possible, however, that one or two invitations of the hundreds he has received may be accepted. William R. Wilson, of New York, called on Harding in Washington with an invitation to speak at the laying of the corner stone of the Roosevelt homestead in New York City early in January. No decision has been made thus far.

Harding's brief but triumphant visit to Washington left his friends tremendously pleased.

Geneva—Argentina's delegation to the league of nations assembly wound up its affairs today. The members headed by Honorable Puerron, will leave for home the latter part of the week.

The assembly, meanwhile, proceeded with its task as if nothing had occurred. There were a few regrets expressed yesterday.

The organization showed its determination to reject Argentina's amendments for the time being, by referring them to a committee to be reported on at the next session.

The only amendments to the covenant to receive attention at this session were in the form of a set of principles determining relations between the council and assembly. These gave the assembly power to examine the decision of the council and provide for a report from the council to the assembly.

"Any interpretation of my efforts for the admission of all states to the league as intended primarily in behalf of Germany," is entirely false," Puerron told the United Press today.

'LET WILSON DO IT' IS WORLD ATTITUDE

Other Nations Are Willing That Wilson Bear Burden of Armenia

By Henry Wood
By United Press Leased Wire
Geneva—"Let Wilson do it," was the tenor of replies to the league of nations appeal for mediation in Armenia received by the assembly today.

No information was received here regarding encroachments of the Turkish nationalists in Armenia, but predictions were made that supreme council intervention will be necessary to settle conditions in the little country.

Replies to the league's request for mediation included that of Premier Hughes, of Australia, asking further information.

"Wilson's generous offer creates the hope that the Armenian problem will be solved," Foreign Minister Neegaard, of Denmark, replied.

Foreign Minister Baran Hattiwared that he "was deeply touched and that Italy will associate in spirit."

Similar answers came from Norway and Sweden. Nicaragua and Panama offered to share expenses.

So far as the league is concerned, Armenia appeared a closed question today. The matter was believed now to be in the hands of President Wilson, to act on as he sees fit.

LIGHT-SIX

We are now ready to give you a demonstration in this NEW LIGHT-SIX

PERFECT and efficient combustion is obtained in the New LIGHT-SIX by the ingenious arrangement of the intake manifold and INTERNAL HOT SPOT—an exclusive Studebaker invention—conceived by Studebaker engineers.

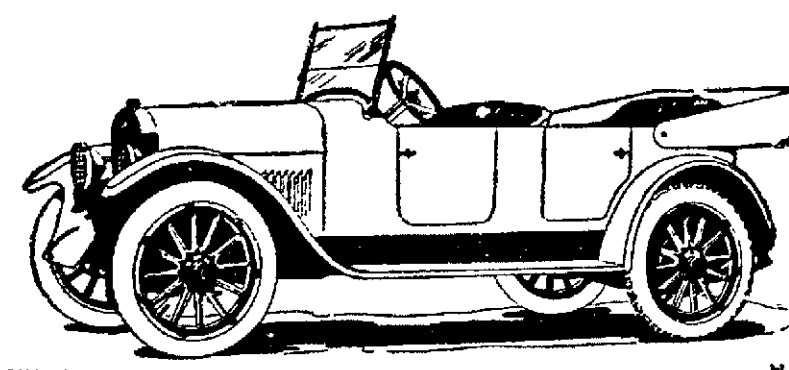

By this new and exclusive construction all gasoline is completely vaporized and used. The mechanical results obtained are a greater volume of vaporized gasoline in each cylinder at the time of explosion and a uniform and complete combustion—these mean economy and great power. The practical results obtained from the New LIGHT-SIX motor are a noticeable increase of power, added economy, absence of carbon deposits and freedom from trouble due to seepage of raw gasoline into the lubricating oil in the crank case.

You can have the advantage of this motor's wonderful gasoline economy and the satisfaction of its smoothness of operation only by owning a Studebaker LIGHT-SIX.
